THURSDAY, AUGUST 7, 1890.

Republican State Nominations.

GOVERNOR: GEORGE W. DELAMATER, Crawford.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR: LOUIS A. WATKES, Lackawanna.

SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS: THOMAS J. STEWART, Montgomery.

It is proposed to test the disposition of the next House of Representatives as to Mr. Blaine's reciprocity policy.

with the South American States, Central America and Mexico.

Mr. Sanford, of New York, has submitted resolutions on the subject, which have been referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The preamble is in the following terms: "The Secretary of State has expressed the opinion that the remission of duties upon sugar and molasses ought to be accompanied by reciprocal arrangements between the United States and Spain and the Republics of South and Central America, whereby these sugar-producing countries can be induced to remit, or so to reduce their import duties upon products of American industry, and especially upon the products of American agriculture, as to secure to the people of the United States important trade reciprocal relationships."

The resolutions which follow declare that it is the sense of the present Congress that the subject should be deferred until the next Congress and that the President be requested to furnish such information to Congress as will enable it to legislate on the subject intelligently and promptly.

DELMATER STOCK IS BOOMING. The contest this year is not a fight; the individuals but the opening battle of the great struggle for supremacy between protection and free trade, in the Nation, which will be fought to a finish in 1892.

George Wallace Delamater, who has been selected to lead the protectionist host here in Pennsylvania. Free Trader W. L. Scott, represented by Robert E. Pattison, heads the British free trade army and such being the conditions can there be the slightest doubt as to the result in this great commonwealth—the home of protection?

men in national encampment at Boston promises to be one of the greatest events in the history of this historic order. It is estimated from the information furnished as to who will be present that 75,000 men will be in line. No doubt Boston, which has always been an American and a patriotic city, will give the boys who wear the blue a rousing welcome, as befits those whom the gray never got in their hair.

THE DEMOCRATIC CANVASS. Honest men are still in the majority in Pennsylvania, and the spirit of liberty is not yet dead in the State.—Democratic Paper.

For that very reason George W. Delamater will be elected Governor in November by a rousing majority. The plan of introducing private character in order to win at the polls has been often tried by the Pennsylvania Democracy, but it has never yet succeeded.

The only instance of the election of a Democratic Governor in the last thirty years was when the Republican party was divided on questions that led to the placing of two tickets in the field. That party has been invincible since 1860 when it was united. It is so still.

The entirely unwarranted attacks now made upon Quay and Delamater by partisan opponents are exactly parallel to those of 1872 upon Gen. Hartranft. They did not prevent his election, although they were urged with the greatest vehemence during the canvass.

Such a lesson ought not to be lost upon the party managers and organs. A campaign of calumny and falsehood only injures those who use these methods of injuring their opponents. If the friends of Mr. Pattison have the slightest hopes of accomplishing anything, they should adopt different tactics.—Norristown Herald.

Great is the newspaper. It is good to wrap it in, good to keep teeth out of, good to stuff battles with, to wrap lunches up with, to take on a cake in the oven, to keep off your nose, to ventilate what you know about farming in and what you don't know as well, to publish spring poetry in, to read and learn from, to educate your boys and girls with, and it's handy to have about the house for any service that may turn up. No family can exist without one.

—This item came to our notice in running the new corporation idea, which is now completed in the State Department. That the Record Publishing Company, which embraces the publishing of the Philadelphia Record, was incorporated and capitalized a short time ago for $1,000,000. Among the incorporators is the supposed anti-corporationist candidate Robert E. Pattison, who holds one hundred shares.

—The nomination of Pattison means the biggest majority for Delamater any governor of Pennsylvania has ever received. Pattison represents nothing as a Democrat and was selected, not because of his Democracy, but for the simple reason that he is expected to please a few Republican kickers of the anti-mug-wump party.—Allentown Chronicle.

The new directory of the city of New York contains 300,000 names. The first one was published in 1789 and contained 840 names. At that time New York had less population than Philadelphia.
